

Governor Hoke Smith Enters Glidden Tour

Georgia's Chief Executive Will Invite Governors of Ten States to Be His Guests

Good Roads Paramount, He Says — Believes National Touring Competition Will Give Highway Develop- ment Great Impetus.

Governor Hoke Smith of Georgia has made entry of a 36 horse-power Maxwell car in the Glidden Tour to be held in October and will ride over New York to Jacksonville, Fla. Mr. Smith will be the first governor or public official to participate in an automobile contest and he will undoubtedly be the most distinguished entrant in the tour. It is not on record that any contest ever received such recognition from the governor of his entry is indicated by plans which hold much promise for the automobile industry and for highway development.

Disregarding the precedent or the custom of high government officers to hold aloof from events of this character, and recognizing that the good roads movement in the south, as well as the automobile industry, is a matter worthy of gubernatorial interest, Governor Smith quickly made his entry when he found that it would be possible for him to participate. He expressed the belief that the road building movement is almost paramount at the present time.

Furthermore, he will invite the Governor of each state through which the tour passes to be his guest on the trip. With ten Eastern and Southern states in the territory to be traversed and several of the Governors practically certain of accepting the invitation, the Glidden Tour takes on a new and more important character. Needless to say such a gathering can hardly be otherwise than attract other men who are big in public affairs and particularly interested in the promotion of national highways.

Governor Smith's Maxwell was tendered to the Governor by Benjamin E. Farnham, president of the United States Motor Company, through Major John S. Cohen of the Atlanta Journal, who has always been a conspicuous advocate of good roads.

THE MAINE WRECK

Rem of Vessel May Be Raised and Brought Here for Exhibition

Havana, Aug. 31.—The work on the wreck of the Maine has not yet gone beyond the experimental stage. It is being closely studied by the different bodies which have taken up the plan of the wreck and to raise the vessel and to transport it to the United States. The plan of the wreck is being studied by the different bodies which have taken up the plan of the wreck and to raise the vessel and to transport it to the United States.

In the first place, many of the circumstances forming the wreck of the Maine were very badly driven. One gave way entirely before pumping was started. These steel slabs of piles were 75 feet long. The water was about 35 feet deep. The soft mud and mud is 10 or 15 feet more, and this leaves but 20 feet of the piles in firmer clay and hardpan at the bottom of the harbor. The water is pumped lower in the cofferdam the pressure from the outside increased, and as the pressure on the caissons increased the circular attack have been taking an oval form to a slight extent, not noticeable to the eye, but clearly shown by the test lines set. This trouble the engineers tried to obviate by dumping rock on the top of the caissons and against the inside walls of the cofferdam. The water pumped down to the 18 ft level showed the weakness of the cofferdam and with the rock dumped inside made the work of pumping out more mud dangerous.

The engineers may be able to take out a few feet more, but they will

THE DEPARTMENT HARDWARE STORE

KEEP THE "KIDDIES" OUT OF DOORS.

Give them good, healthful exercise, and innocent amusement by furnishing a pastime pleasure that will prove USEFUL as well as amusing.

Have you seen our CHILDREN'S EXPRESS WAGONS? They are made of strong, durable material on the lines of the regular express wagon, but smaller and more compact. Sold in all sizes, priced to suit any purse.

Also push carts, velocipedes, bicycles and other novel vehicles for the little ones.

Displayed in Middle Street Window.

Big stock on third floor. We would like to show them.

THE LYON AND GRUMMAN CO.

FAIRFIELD AVENUE, CORNER MIDDLE STREET

"QUALITY MERCHANDISE, PRICED RIGHT"

Geo. B. Clark & Co.

Furniture, Carpets, Draperies and Stoves

1067 TO 1073 BROAD STREET, OPP. POST OFFICE

OUR SERVICE SAVES

most of the laundry. When you send your family washing to us—we iron and fold, ready for instant use, all of your flat work such as bed and table linen, towels, rags, handkerchiefs, etc. This leaves your entire family washing, but a few articles of wearing apparel, to be done. The cost is but a trifle when you consider the amount of labor saved—one and one-half cents a piece for not less than 50 pieces.

1067 TO 1073 BROAD STREET, OPP. POST OFFICE

445 FAIRFIELD AVENUE Telephone 4320

Observer Jennings Expects Clearing Weather Tomorrow

Four Inches of Rainfall Since Last Thursday, He Says

Weather Observer William Jennings—who does not lay claim to being a weather prophet but whose dope on meteorological conditions is always reliable—took a few friends into his confidence today and made a prediction. Tomorrow will be clear.

Observer Jennings as a rule makes no predictions, but the stress of such a prediction led his friends to make unusually urgent pleas for inside information as to the plans of Mr. J. Jennings. Mr. Jennings has a close eye on the communication with the weather, and what he says may be taken as reasonably reassuring.

Mr. Jennings said that up to 7:30 this morning the total rainfall for August was 4.47 inches. Of this, 3.73 inches fell since last Thursday. This is the heaviest rainfall we have had this year. Up to noon the rainfall for the week ending today was about 4 inches.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Katherine McNally and her niece, Miss Kathleen from Stamford, are visiting with the cousins, Mr. J. M. Griffin and Mrs. R. J. Reilly.

Miss Julia Haux of Grand street has returned from a very pleasant trip to Lake Sebago, Maine.

Edward A. Drew of 109 Fairview avenue, is spending his two weeks' vacation at Pittsfield, Mass.

There is joy in the household of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Scott at 830 Main street, and a proud pop is wearing a continuously happy smile. Tuesday evening old Doc Stork knocked at No. 830 and found the pop in a very happy mood.

ALGONQUIN CLUB CHANGES

At a meeting of the Algonquin club last evening the report of the special committee on improvements and alterations, which was outlined in the Farmer, was accepted and it was decided to institute immediate steps to carry out the plan.

"TAFT GAVE REASONS BUT NO EXCUSE" IS
W. J. BRYAN'S COMMENT.

(Special from United Press.)

Lima, O., Aug. 31.—"The President in his Hamilton address, gave reasons, but no excuse," said William J. Bryan today. Bryan refused to discuss politics.

BEATTIE'S FATHER THE 13 SON OF A 13TH SON.

(Special from United Press.)

Marine City, Mich., Aug. 31.—The number 13 has been the cause of much sorrow to my brother, Henry Clay Beattie, Sr., said Robert M. Beattie, State customs officer here, and uncle of the Virginia youth now on trial for the murder of his wife, today.

"Henry, Sr., was the 13th child in a family of 13," he added. "The number 13 also has appeared in his life in many ways, but no tragedy has befallen him until now."

COLONIAL BALL ROOM OPENING.

Marking the beginning of the 11th season of Prof. Quilty, the well known and highly successful dancing master, the Colonial ball room, the most elegant public dancing place in the state, will be formally opened tomorrow night. On this occasion there will be a performance of the orchestra and dancing until midnight.

Next week Prof. Quilty will start his private dancing lessons, but will not begin the formation of dancing classes until the first week in October. Well deserved success has rewarded his efforts in teaching dancing to the general public and each season has been more successful than its predecessor. Thus all indications point to more pupils than ever during the coming winter who will take instruction in dancing from him. Tomorrow night the Colonial will doubtless contain a merry crowd as people are always anxious to have the pleasure of dancing there.

THE FARMER FOR VACATIONERS

Readers of "The Farmer" leaving the city for the season, should know that rural resorts, or for Europe, can have sent direct to them by mail for any period desired—days, weeks or months. Address may be changed as often as desired.

THE PRETTIEST FACE

and the most beautiful hands are of course the hands of a woman. It can easily be removed in a few days without pain by using CYRUS WART REMOVER, for sale only at The Cyrus Pharmacy, 253 Fairfield avenue and 186 Cannon St.

CLEANSEAS, THE BEST HAND SOAP.

Guaranteed not to injure the skin. Instantly removes Grease, Rust, Grease, Ink, Paint and Dirt. For the hand or clothing. Large can 10 cents. Manufactured by Wm. R. Winn, 214 Stratford Ave.

THOMASTON THREATENED
WITH TYPHOID FEVER.

(Special from United Press.)

Thomaston, Aug. 31.—The local health authorities took prompt steps, today, to escape danger of a typhoid epidemic due to a case of fully developed fever discovered on the watered for the new reservoir. Robert Hartman, a laborer is the fever victim. He was rushed to St. Mary's Hospital, Waterbury, yesterday, in an effort to save his life. He is now in hospital, today, his condition was reported critical.

UNIONS FORMING FEDERATION.

(Special from United Press.)

Milwaukee, Aug. 31.—Officials of the Federated Trade Council admitted, today, that a system federation of the shop employees on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad, is almost complete, and that as soon as the Federation is well under way, the shopmen will join in demanding that the officers of the railroad be notified of the federation instead of the individual unions as at present.

Millville.—Washed overboard from a schooner in Chesapeake Bay, 20 years ago, and mourned as dead, George W. Hawkins has returned here to claim the estate of his mother and sister.

THOMASTON THREATENED
WITH TYPHOID FEVER.

(Special from United Press.)

Thomaston, Aug. 31.—The local health authorities took prompt steps, today, to escape danger of a typhoid epidemic due to a case of fully developed fever discovered on the watered for the new reservoir. Robert Hartman, a laborer is the fever victim. He was rushed to St. Mary's Hospital, Waterbury, yesterday, in an effort to save his life. He is now in hospital, today, his condition was reported critical.

UNIONS FORMING FEDERATION.

(Special from United Press.)

Milwaukee, Aug. 31.—Officials of the Federated Trade Council admitted, today, that a system federation of the shop employees on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad, is almost complete, and that as soon as the Federation is well under way, the shopmen will join in demanding that the officers of the railroad be notified of the federation instead of the individual unions as at present.

Millville.—Washed overboard from a schooner in Chesapeake Bay, 20 years ago, and mourned as dead, George W. Hawkins has returned here to claim the estate of his mother and sister.

Silk Clad Siren Holds The Secret Of Beattie's Life

Beulah Binford Declares She Will Tell The Truth But Neither Side May Call Her

(Special from United Press.)

Chesterfield Courthouse, Va., Aug. 31.—Locked in the boom of a slim, 17 year old girl, a feminine enigma, today, lay the story that would settle the fight for life of Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., on trial for the murder of his wife.

Beulah Binford, sweetheart of the accused man since she was 13 holds the secret that would clear or condemn Henry Beattie. But neither the lawyers who seek and shed the electric chair nor those who are working to save his life, would admit, today, that they would produce the girl-eyed girl on the witness stand to either prove or disprove the tale on which depended the life of the accused man.

Prosecution and defense are afraid of her. Despite a series of vicious third degree examinations, her real attitude was just as much in doubt, today, as when Henry Beattie was arrested. And she laughingly admitted it.

"If they place me on the stand, I will tell the truth," said Beulah, with a laugh. "I will tell the truth, through the iron walled jail in Richmond, where she is confined. 'I can't tell you what my testimony will be,' she said. 'I will tell the truth.'"

The slim, little child-woman threw back her head, cast her wealth of golden hair out of her eyes and with an outburst of the force of living steel, declared herself on the edge of the plain deal table that with her bed makes up the main furnishing of her cell.

"Do you love Henry Beattie?" she asked. "I like him awfully well," came the smiling but evasive reply. "He and I were lovely good chums. We were too good chums."

The slinky ankles moved slowly and the silvery voice grew softer when she continued, "I never had a chance to tell you that I loved him."

"Do you love Henry Beattie?" she asked. "I like him awfully well," came the smiling but evasive reply. "He and I were lovely good chums. We were too good chums."

The slinky ankles moved slowly and the silvery voice grew softer when she continued, "I never had a chance to tell you that I loved him."

"Do you love Henry Beattie?" she asked. "I like him awfully well," came the smiling but evasive reply. "He and I were lovely good chums. We were too good chums."

The slinky ankles moved slowly and the silvery voice grew softer when she continued, "I never had a chance to tell you that I loved him."

"Do you love Henry Beattie?" she asked. "I like him awfully well," came the smiling but evasive reply. "He and I were lovely good chums. We were too good chums."

The slinky ankles moved slowly and the silvery voice grew softer when she continued, "I never had a chance to tell you that I loved him."

"Do you love Henry Beattie?" she asked. "I like him awfully well," came the smiling but evasive reply. "He and I were lovely good chums. We were too good chums."

The slinky ankles moved slowly and the silvery voice grew softer when she continued, "I never had a chance to tell you that I loved him."

"Do you love Henry Beattie?" she asked. "I like him awfully well," came the smiling but evasive reply. "He and I were lovely good chums. We were too good chums."

The slinky ankles moved slowly and the silvery voice grew softer when she continued, "I never had a chance to tell you that I loved him."

"Do you love Henry Beattie?" she asked. "I like him awfully well," came the smiling but evasive reply. "He and I were lovely good chums. We were too good chums."

The slinky ankles moved slowly and the silvery voice grew softer when she continued, "I never had a chance to tell you that I loved him."

"Do you love Henry Beattie?" she asked. "I like him awfully well," came the smiling but evasive reply. "He and I were lovely good chums. We were too good chums."

The slinky ankles moved slowly and the silvery voice grew softer when she continued, "I never had a chance to tell you that I loved him."

"Do you love Henry Beattie?" she asked. "I like him awfully well," came the smiling but evasive reply. "He and I were lovely good chums. We were too good chums."

The slinky ankles moved slowly and the silvery voice grew softer when she continued, "I never had a chance to tell you that I loved him."

"Do you love Henry Beattie?" she asked. "I like him awfully well," came the smiling but evasive reply. "He and I were lovely good chums. We were too good chums."

The slinky ankles moved slowly and the silvery voice grew softer when she continued, "I never had a chance to tell you that I loved him."

"Do you love Henry Beattie?" she asked. "I like him awfully well," came the smiling but evasive reply. "He and I were lovely good chums. We were too good chums."

The slinky ankles moved slowly and the silvery voice grew softer when she continued, "I never had a chance to tell you that I loved him."

"Do you love Henry Beattie?" she asked. "I like him awfully well," came the smiling but evasive reply. "He and I were lovely good chums. We were too good chums."

The slinky ankles moved slowly and the silvery voice grew softer when she continued, "I never had a chance to tell you that I loved him."

"Do you love Henry Beattie?" she asked. "I like him awfully well," came the smiling but evasive reply. "He and I were lovely good chums. We were too good chums."

The slinky ankles moved slowly and the silvery voice grew softer when she continued, "I never had a chance to tell you that I loved him."

"Do you love Henry Beattie?" she asked. "I like him awfully well," came the smiling but evasive reply. "He and I were lovely good chums. We were too good chums."

Breathed In Her Ears To Cure A Neuralgic Attack

Fee For Magnetic Treatment is Only $10, But His Bill is $300

New York, Aug. 31.—Oriental tapestries, pungent perfumes from Arab the best, flowing robes bearing mystic symbols, and blue flames—these are part of a new cure for neuralgia and rheumatism in the method of treatment known as "Professor" Fritz Voigt, according to testimony given by Mrs. Isabella Goodwin, in Essex Market court, yesterday. Besides the case of her husband, the patient was obliged to submit to a vigorous blowing in the ears. All this was administered for the sum of $10, $2 down and the rest on instalments, Mrs. Goodwin said.

Voigt, whose ears describe him as "vitaopist, hypnotic and magnetic healer" is thirty-four years old and does business in East Ninth street. He was charged with unlawful practice of medicine, the complaint having been framed by the New York County Medical society and after Mrs. Goodwin and Mrs. Frances Benzecry, both of whom are employed by that organization, had told their stories, he was held in $300 bail by Magistrate Herbert.

Mrs. Goodwin, who is also a police matron, gave a graphic narration of the case. She said that her husband was afflicted with neuralgia and rheumatism, and that she was obliged to submit to a vigorous blowing in the ears. All this was administered for the sum of $10, $2 down and the rest on instalments, Mrs. Goodwin said.

Voigt, whose ears describe him as "vitaopist, hypnotic and magnetic healer" is thirty-four years old and does business in East Ninth street. He was charged with unlawful practice of medicine, the complaint having been framed by the New York County Medical society and after Mrs. Goodwin and Mrs. Frances Benzecry, both of whom are employed by that organization, had told their stories, he was held in $300 bail by Magistrate Herbert.

Mrs. Goodwin, who is also a police matron, gave a graphic narration of the case. She said that her husband was afflicted with neuralgia and rheumatism, and that she was obliged to submit to a vigorous blowing in the ears. All this was administered for the sum of $10, $2 down and the rest on instalments, Mrs. Goodwin said.

Voigt, whose ears describe him as "vitaopist, hypnotic and magnetic healer" is thirty-four years old and does business in East Ninth street. He was charged with unlawful practice of medicine, the complaint having been framed by the New York County Medical society and after Mrs. Goodwin and Mrs. Frances Benzecry, both of whom are employed by that organization, had told their stories, he was held in $300 bail by Magistrate Herbert.

Mrs. Goodwin, who is also a police matron, gave a graphic narration of the case. She said that her husband was afflicted with neuralgia and rheumatism, and that she was obliged to submit to a vigorous blowing in the ears. All this was administered for the sum of $10, $2 down and the rest on instalments, Mrs. Goodwin said.

Voigt, whose ears describe him as "vitaopist, hypnotic and magnetic healer" is thirty-four years old and does business in East Ninth street. He was charged with unlawful practice of medicine, the complaint having been framed by the New York County Medical society and after Mrs. Goodwin and Mrs. Frances Benzecry, both of whom are employed by that organization, had told their stories, he was held in $300 bail by Magistrate Herbert.

Mrs. Goodwin, who is also a police matron, gave a graphic narration of the case. She said that her husband was afflicted with neuralgia and rheumatism, and that she was obliged to submit to a vigorous blowing in the ears. All this was administered for the sum of $10, $2 down and the rest on instalments, Mrs. Goodwin said.

Voigt, whose ears describe him as "vitaopist, hypnotic and magnetic healer" is thirty-four years old and does business in East Ninth street. He was charged with unlawful practice of medicine, the complaint having been framed by the New York County Medical society and after Mrs. Goodwin and Mrs. Frances Benzecry, both of whom are employed by that organization, had told their stories, he was held in $300 bail by Magistrate Herbert.

Mrs. Goodwin, who is also a police matron, gave a graphic narration of the case. She said that her husband was afflicted with neuralgia and rheumatism, and that she was obliged to submit to a vigorous blowing in the ears. All this was administered for the sum of $10, $2 down and the rest on instalments, Mrs. Goodwin said.

Voigt, whose ears describe him as "vitaopist, hypnotic and magnetic healer" is thirty-four years old and does business in East Ninth street. He was charged with unlawful practice of medicine, the complaint having been framed by the New York County Medical society and after Mrs. Goodwin and Mrs. Frances Benzecry, both of whom are employed by that organization, had told their stories, he was held in $300 bail by Magistrate Herbert.

Mrs. Goodwin, who is also a police matron, gave a graphic narration of the case. She said that her husband was afflicted with neuralgia and rheumatism, and that she was obliged to submit to a vigorous blowing in the ears. All this was administered for the sum of $10, $2 down and the rest on instalments, Mrs. Goodwin said.

Voigt, whose ears describe him as "vitaopist, hypnotic and magnetic healer" is thirty-four years old and does business in East Ninth street. He was charged with unlawful practice of medicine, the complaint having been framed by the New York County Medical society and after Mrs. Goodwin and Mrs. Frances Benzecry, both of whom are employed by that organization, had told their stories, he was held in $300 bail by Magistrate Herbert.

Mrs. Goodwin, who is also a police matron, gave a graphic narration of the case. She said that her husband was afflicted with neuralgia and rheumatism, and that she was obliged to submit to a vigorous blowing in the ears. All this was administered for the sum of $10, $2 down and the rest on instalments, Mrs. Goodwin said.

Voigt, whose ears describe him as "vitaopist, hypnotic and magnetic healer" is thirty-four years old and does business in East Ninth street. He was charged with unlawful practice of medicine, the complaint having been framed by the New York County Medical society and after Mrs. Goodwin and Mrs. Frances Benzecry, both of whom are employed by that organization, had told their stories, he was held in $300 bail by Magistrate Herbert.

Mrs. Goodwin, who is also a police matron, gave a graphic narration of the case. She said that her husband was afflicted with neuralgia and rheumatism, and that she was obliged to submit to a vigorous blowing in the ears. All this was administered for the sum of $10, $2 down and the rest on instalments, Mrs. Goodwin said.

Voigt, whose ears describe him as "vitaopist, hypnotic and magnetic healer" is thirty-four years old and does business in East Ninth street. He was charged with unlawful practice of medicine, the complaint having been framed by the New York County Medical society and after Mrs. Goodwin and Mrs. Frances Benzecry, both of whom are employed by that organization, had told their stories, he was held in $300 bail by Magistrate Herbert.

Mrs. Goodwin, who is also a police matron, gave a graphic narration of the case. She said that her husband was afflicted with neuralgia and rheumatism, and that she was obliged to submit to a vigorous blowing in the ears. All this was administered for the sum of $10, $2 down and the rest on instalments, Mrs. Goodwin said.

Voigt, whose ears describe him as "vitaopist, hypnotic and magnetic healer" is thirty-four years old and does business in East Ninth street. He was charged with unlawful practice of medicine, the complaint having been framed by the New York County Medical society and after Mrs. Goodwin and Mrs. Frances Benzecry, both of whom are employed by that organization, had told their stories, he was held in $300 bail by Magistrate Herbert.

Mrs. Goodwin, who is also a police matron, gave a graphic narration of the case. She said that her husband was afflicted with neuralgia and rheumatism, and that she was obliged to submit to a vigorous blowing in the ears. All this was administered for the sum of $10, $2 down and the rest on instalments, Mrs. Goodwin said.

Voigt, whose ears describe him as "vitaopist, hypnotic and magnetic healer" is thirty-four years old and does business in East Ninth street. He was charged with unlawful practice of medicine, the complaint having been framed by the New York County Medical society and after Mrs. Goodwin and Mrs. Frances Benzecry, both of whom are employed by that organization, had told their stories, he was held in $300 bail by Magistrate Herbert.

Mrs. Goodwin, who is also a police matron, gave a graphic narration of the case. She said that her husband was afflicted with neuralgia and rheumatism, and that she was obliged to submit to a vigorous blowing in the ears. All this was administered for the sum of $10, $2 down and the rest on instalments, Mrs. Goodwin said.

Voigt, whose ears describe him as "vitaopist, hypnotic and magnetic healer" is thirty-four years old and does business in East Ninth street. He was charged with unlawful practice of medicine, the complaint having been framed by the New York County Medical society and after Mrs. Goodwin and Mrs. Frances Benzecry, both of whom are employed by that organization, had told their stories, he was held in $300 bail by Magistrate Herbert.

Mrs. Goodwin, who is also a police matron, gave a graphic narration of the case. She said that her husband was afflicted with neuralgia and rheumatism, and that she was obliged to submit to a vigorous blowing in the ears. All this was administered for the sum of $10, $2 down and the rest on instalments, Mrs. Goodwin said.

Voigt, whose ears describe him as "vitaopist, hypnotic and magnetic healer" is thirty-four years old and does business in East Ninth street. He was charged with unlawful practice of medicine, the complaint having been framed by the New York County Medical society and after Mrs. Goodwin and Mrs. Frances Benzecry, both of whom are employed by that organization, had told their stories, he was held in $300 bail by Magistrate Herbert.

Mrs. Goodwin, who is also a police matron, gave a graphic narration of the case. She said that her husband was afflicted with neuralgia and rheumatism, and that she was obliged to submit to a vigorous blowing in the ears. All this was administered for the sum of $10, $2 down and the rest on instalments, Mrs. Goodwin said.

Voigt, whose ears describe him as "vitaopist, hypnotic and magnetic healer" is thirty-four years old and does business in East Ninth street. He was charged with unlawful practice of medicine, the complaint having been framed by the New York County Medical society and after Mrs. Goodwin and Mrs. Frances Benzecry, both of whom are employed by that organization, had told their stories, he was held in $300 bail by Magistrate Herbert.

Mrs. Goodwin, who is also a police matron, gave a graphic narration of the case. She said that her husband was afflicted with neuralgia and rheumatism, and that she was obliged to submit to a vigorous blowing in the ears. All this was administered for the sum of $10, $2 down and the rest on instalments, Mrs. Goodwin said.

Voigt, whose ears describe him as "vitaopist, hypnotic and magnetic healer" is thirty-four years old and does business in East Ninth street. He was charged with unlawful practice of medicine, the complaint having been framed by the New York County Medical society and after Mrs. Goodwin and Mrs. Frances Benzecry, both of whom are employed by that organization, had told their stories, he was held in $300 bail by Magistrate Herbert.

Mrs. Goodwin, who is also a police matron, gave a graphic narration of the case. She said that her husband was afflicted with neuralgia and rheumatism, and that she was obliged to submit to a vigorous blowing in the ears. All this was administered for the sum of $10, $2 down and the rest on instalments, Mrs. Goodwin said.

The Horde-Celman Co.

1138 to 1144 Main St., from Main to Middle

A Warm Sweater Will Make You Comfortable on These Cold, Rainy, Fall Days

The newest designs in these comfy outer garments are being shown now. All sizes for ladies and misses in fancy and mannish weaves and in various colors, including white, gray, tan and scarlet are represented in this stock of excellent sweaters priced from

$2.00 to $5.00

Some of the models possess very comely sailor collars and all are coat style with large pretty buttons, conceded by all makers to be the design best adapted to every use. Its fashionable becomingness is unquestioned. The colder and wet nights of early autumn will be rendered most comfortable to the wearer of one of these garments.

INLAND WATERWAYS

Coming Convention of Atlantic Deep- Waterways Association

Washington, Aug. 31.—Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, who will be the presidential figure will be the stellar attraction at the fourth annual convention of the Atlantic Deep-Waterway Association, which will be held in Richmond, Va., October 17 to 20.

Last year the association held its annual convention at Providence, R. I., and the entertainment afforded the delegates was notable. The character and on a scale of magnificence such as is rarely witnessed at conventions of this character, Richmond, however, with its staid record for hospitality, purposes a series of entertainments for the delegates that it is hoped will at least rival the efforts of its sister city to the north in the way of prodigal entertainment.

While Providence has its claim, Richmond will have its oyster roast and its terrapin. The delegates will be the toothsome delicacies the Capital City of the Old Dominion and the great objective of the Civil War, offers an endless variety of scenes not only associated with the last half of the nineteenth century, but connected with the early beginnings of the country.

In addition to Governor Wilson a number of other executives of States interested in the Atlantic Deep-Waterway movement will participate in the exercises of the convention. Governor Mann of Virginia delivering the speech of welcome to the delegates. Several other governors expected are: Austin L. Crockett of Maryland, John K. Tener of Pennsylvania, Arum J. Potier of Rhode Island, George A. Mead of Vermont, William W. Norton of North Carolina and possibly several others.

There will also be a number of United States Senators and Representatives present, and the convention will be a deliberation of the convention and who are interested in this great project which means so much to the commerce of the country.

Representative J. Hampton Moore of Philadelphia, president of the Atlantic Deep-Waterways association, one of the orators of the convention, will deliver an address on the subject of inland passage from Maine to Florida and a "live wire" in Congress, in an interview on the purposes of this great project, he said that the act of March 3, 1909, Congress authorized a survey for a continuous inland waterway along the Atlantic seaboard, from Maryland to Key West, and thence along the Gulf to the Mississippi river. That survey has since been going on under the direction of the United States Army.

The project of this waterway, which was authorized by Congress in 1909, has since been going on under the direction of the United States Army. The project of this waterway, which was authorized by Congress in 1909, has since been going on under the direction of the United States Army.

The project of this waterway, which was authorized by Congress in 1909, has since been going on under the direction of the United States Army. The project of this waterway, which was authorized by Congress in 1909, has since been going on under the direction of the United States Army.

The project of this waterway, which was authorized by Congress in 1909, has since been going on under the direction of the United